

Founded in 1927 in Italy, the SOL Group operates in the production, applied research, and marketing of technical and medical gases, home care, biotechnologies, and the production of energy from renewable sources.

The SOL Group Companies run their business aware of the need to maintain and implement a quality management policy aimed at the continuous improvement of their processes, products, and services.

Over the years, quality has been more and more perceived as a value that is built together, day by day, with dialogue, participation, and involvement.

In order to guarantee the development, implementation, and effectiveness of the quality management policy, the SOL Group's Companies refer to the Quality, Safety, Environmental, Sustainability & Regulatory Affairs Executive Division in the Headquarters which is authorized and delegated to take all the necessary actions.

The Quality System of the SOL Group Companies evolves and develops in accordance with the requirements of the international standards ISO 9001, and, for the medical device sector, EN ISO 13485; for the activities of the testing laboratory, the references are the UNI CEI EN ISO/IEC 17025 standard in the current revision and the ACCREDIA requirements (RT-08). For the production of reference materials, we comply with the UNI CEI EN ISO 17034 standard as well as the ACCREDIA requirements (RT-34).

The commitment of all employees of the SOL Group Companies is to use the Quality Management System as an operational tool for daily work in the various activities of both at the Headquarters and the Subsidiaries, with the aim of understanding the expressed and unexpressed needs of the customer, both internal and external, as well as all other interested parties, and to meet all applicable requirements.

The Top Management promote and implement the SOL Group context analysis, in order to identify and evaluate the main risks and opportunities to be managed for the pursuit of the Group's strategic objectives such as: sustainable development, diversification, internationalization, efficiency and development of human resources, always paying the greatest attention to safety, ethics, and the environment.

This Policy is brought to the attention of all those who work for and on behalf of the SOL Companies and their stakeholders, through its publication on the website www.solgroup.com.
